Jacksonville does not provide the coming election for a solution of the water supply question, state department of public health will proceed to build a plant to furnish water for the state institutions here. The building of such a plant will mean early loss of $5,000 to $10,000 revenue to the city water department. Such a loss would cripple the city and make a solution of the water problem more difficult.

The Springfield (Mass.) Republican considers that "the two new soldiers from New York who won the French war cross by fighting twenty Germans to flight in a night raid into the German lines only began what was to be a brilliant military record by the negro regiments of America on Europe's battlefields."

WOMEN IN WAR TIME WORK.

At the monthly meeting of the woman's division council of national defense of Morgan county, held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Lams Thursday afternoon, interesting reports were presented. The report of child welfare work indicated that many children are being brought to the clinic for measuring and testing in accordance with the government request. Early all children thus far presented have made an excellent showing. The work has been continued in a number of county predicts including Nortonville, Markham and Prentice and the results there have been very satisfactory. The proposal of a down town headquarters for the board was discussed and it is the hope and expectation that such a room can be found, as it will greatly facilitate the work.

The county wide meeting of women interested in the work of the council of national defense will be held in Chapin some time this week at a date yet to be announced.

Local interest in the great war should not be so absorbing that the election Tuesday, June 18, here in Jacksonville is forgotten. The water supply question is before the people for consideration. The issuance of $75,000 of bonds will furnish an impounding reservoir with a filtration plant and provide a permanent and ample supply. This statement is based upon the investigation and written reports of engineers representing three state departments and other engineers employed to carefully consider local conditions.

The bond ordinance paying the way for the special election to be held June 18 provides that the money raised from bonds cannot be spent for any other purpose than water supply extension and that it cannot be spent except upon authority of a joint committee on water supply. This committee includes in addition to the city council, Dr. J. R. Harker, Dr. C. E. Black, J. W. Merrigan, M. C. Fitch and T. A. Chapin.

If you feel no special interest in the water supply question today, turn your mind back a very few months and remember the days when Morgan lake was dry, when no water was in the Manuvalerie and when the city, with a daily average consumption of a million gallons a day, was dependent wholly upon a supply of less than 500,000 gallons coming from the north side wells.

Your health and your property were in grave danger then. Such days will surely come again unless provision is made for a permanent water supply. The issuance of $75,000 in bonds will make this provision.

News from the war front has not been of a very encouraging kind for many days past. So the story printed today of the prowess of the U. S. marines will be received with special joy. And the good record of the marines in this engagement was simply maintained for no branch of U. S. forces has been better showing in recent years. The authenticated story from the front shows that these U. S. troops drove the Germans back more than 2 miles along a 4 mile front and in addition took 100 German prisoners. Now certainly at least one portion of the kaiser's force will no longer doubt that the U. S. is really in this war.

THE PRESIDENT IS FOR EQUAL SUFFRAGE.

Even the militant suffragists who picketed the white house grounds for so many months should be satisfied with the message of President Wilson sent to the Louisiana state legislature urging the adoption of equal suffrage in that state. The president said, "I cannot help regarding the settlement of this question as of a world significance and as affording a standard upon which to judge our present interest in the complete establishment of democracy. I am moved to send you this expression of opinion by a very profound sense of the public interest."

The fact that President Wilson declared that the great war is to make the world safe for democracy has in the past been somewhat weakened in the opinion of some believers in equal suffrage the president was not strong enough in his advocacy of equal suffrage. These objections to presidential attitude argued that it was not quite consistent to talk about a world safe for democracy when so large a percentage of the citizens of this country were not permitted suffrage rights. They felt that true democracy included the right for all to take part in governmental affairs. Mr. Wilson's Louisiana message answers the argument.

THE MEANING OF PARADES.

The editor of the Saturday Evening Post does not believe in parades. In a recent issue that paper, with its "circulation of a million and more," had this to say:

"It is time to discourage this overfrequent parading. As a method of focusing public attention and rousing enthusiasm the parade originated, of course, in illiterate communities whose minds were open to only the most elementary appeals. By frequent repetition it grows stale and it has been repeated too much of late."

Jacksonville is a small spot on the globe by comparison with Philadelphia where the Post is published, but if the editor of that publication had witnessed the Decoration day parade in this city, realized the spirit and motives that inspired it, he might take an entirely different view of the parade question. The people here are of one mind that it is a fine spirit of patriotism seeking expression and that demonstration here undoubtedly brought the people into closer relationship and better understanding than had been true before.

STRENUOUS DAYS FOR THE LOCAL BOARD.

These are indeed strenuous days for the local board of Morgan county and the end is not yet. The members of this board now face the most arduous and difficult work that they have yet done. The call for 400 men to enter the army service upon June 24 truly means sacrifice for 400 homes in Morgan county. If there are any people who imagine that the work of selecting these men rests lightly on the shoulders of the local board members they greatly err. To choose these men and do so quickly is the imperative duty of the board and in order to comply with government requirements will mean the taking of all Class I-A men, whether married or unmarried and also a goodly number of men who have not up to this time been placed in permanent classification.

The order means that those men who have been temporarily deferred on account of agricultural work must now enter the army service. It is not a question of what the local board wishes in the matter it is simply a matter of obeying the order of the government. All along the local board has taken into account the agricultural conditions of this county and has kept in mind the importance of food production. This question has been considered in both a local way and because of its world wide importance. But now the end has been reached and the farming community must make up its mind to meet conditions for the agricultural workers of draft age are now going to the training camps. For men and women to besiege the office of the board and to endeavor to secure further delays will simply furnish a certain amount of embarrassment for all parties concerned.

The time for discussion the time for explanation is past. The board has all along known the agricultural needs and has done its very best to keep the workers in the fields. It is not a pleasure for the board to take the sweeping action of sending all these men to the army camps. It is merely a matter of duty. It is their war in which these men will aid but the war of the people and the board members are simply acting under the military orders from the U. S. They are in the military service. The advice they give to men who enter the service is to remember that the first duty of the soldier is to obey. These board members are called upon to recognize that fact in their own minds and their first duty in the military organization of which they are a part is to carry out instructions and orders which emanate from the provost marshal general who represents President Wilson.

their commander-in-chief.

These are times of stress and worry in which the people should unhesitatingly and loyally aid the local board members rather than follow any course which will embarrass or embarrass them.

FIRE AT JEROME, ARIZ.

Jerome, Ariz., June 6.—One man was burned to death and another suffered burns from which he probably will die in a fire early today which destroyed more than one hundred houses in the Mexican district here and made fully 1,000 persons homeless. The origin of the fire is undetermined. The loss was estimated at $200,000.

Work of erecting temporary houses to shelter the homeless was begun before the fire was extinguished and a large number of persons took the sufferers into their homes. A relief fund also was started.

Trinidad Contreras, a mine railroad switchman, is believed to be the man who lost his life. For a time the entire city was threatened.

TO ORGANIZE DEVELOPMENT BATTALIONS

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Organization of "development battalions" at every national army, national guard and regular army camp was ordered today by the war department. These new units are designed to take over all men not immediately fit for service with a view to giving them intensive training to overcome their faults, mental or physical, or to eliminate such as are unfit for either combatant or non-combatant service. Among others who may be detailed to the battalions are the many drafted men ignorant of English.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE TO USE AUTOS

San Francisco June 6.—Automobiles will be used by the Pacific Coast League baseball league beginning Sunday in transporting the teams between San Francisco and Los Angeles. It was announced here today by A. T. Baum, president of the league. The increased railroads and Pullman fares effective June 10 made it imperative for the league to take this step, he said. The teams will continue to travel by train between Salt Lake City and California.

GERMAN CENSORSHIP MORE STRINGENT

AMSTERDAM, June 6.—Allegations that the German censorship is growing more stringent were made at the opening sitting of the Reichstag of the Centrist Party and Deputy Bauer, a Socialist.

Matters were growing continually worse, Deputy Bauer said, and the censorship increasingly had placed itself in the service of the "just of conquest" even meetings for equal suffrage being forbidden, although their aims coincided with government policy.

The feeling among the people was becoming ever more exasperated, the deputy added. He complained that while the Pacificists were harassed the anti-socialist politicians were encouraged, and declared that this policy would inevitably lead to a catastrophe.

JOURNALIST ARRESTED; ALLEGED TO BE PRO-GERMAN

Chicago, June 6.—Louis Livingston, 50 years old, a writer and journalist, was arrested today by agents of the department of justice. A trunk containing alleged pro-German pamphlets written by him also was seized. ANOTHER LETTER FROM OVER-SEAS

Private Henry A. Hicks writes his mother from over-seas as follows:
May 12, 1918.

My Dear Mother—
I am in such a cheerful mood this evening and I simply must spend my time in writing you a letter on Mother's Day. Although you are far away, how near you are in my thought. I have been thinking of you constantly this whole long day and at times I can hear your dear voice calling me.

I received dad's letter yesterday and today I received the picture of Jack and Mary and it is sure the image of them both. The picture was not sent or filed in any way. I certainly do like to hear you tell about the little dear. I imagine she keeps all of you hustling to keep her busy and I can imagine many of her cute sayings.

I am still in the same old place and nothing of interest to write about. I went out to a ball game this afternoon and we just got over to the grounds when it started to rain so all of us made a trip on those beautiful railroads for nothing. Have sure been having funny weather, always warm but one minute the sun is shining brightly and the next instant it is raining.

I read in the paper over here that we have to make a request for things we want, so in my next letter I will order a car load of Mullenix & Hamilton's chocolates. I am trying to let up on smoking, but it is a hard thing to do over here in the service, especially when we have so little enjoyment.

Never forget, dear mother, that the memories of your kind and dear face are enthroned in my heart and there it always will be and I am so thankful that I have a mother that I can write to and be happy this Mother's day. I know you are thinking of me and that you rejoice in my joys and shed tears over my sorrows. Keep happy and patient, and with heaps of love, I am

Your son and soldier boy Henry.

The summer hats shown by FRANK BYRNS today, are as far ahead of those shown a few years ago, as the automobile is ahead of the old ox cart.

HATCH MORE
CHICKENS NOW.

Continue to hatch as many chickens as you can care for. There has not been such a backward spring in years. Taking Peoria as a sample, the weather bureau reports that the average temperature of March and April differed only one degree. April averages 13 degrees warmer in ordinary years.

The reason the U. S. Department of Agriculture recommends early hatching is because there are more bugs and worms in the spring than in the summer, and the spring grass is juicy, palatable and easily digested, and not burned and dried as in summer.

Two things growing chickens need are worms and bugs, which form the animal food so necessary to their growth, and succulent green grass. These conditions are with us, and hot dry summer weather seems a long way off. So, hatch, hatch, hatch!

The burden of producing poultry and eggs rests with us here. There isn't the feed in the East, and flocks there have been reduced 25 to 33 per cent. Texas is short 5,000,000 hens. Prices are better than ever before, and the Illinois farmer has every reason to go to the limit on poultry this year.

The consumption of eggs this spring has been very heavy. The world has been fed by England and France cannot do it. Great Britain imported 180,000 tons of eggs each year before the war. Last year her imports of eggs were short 128,000 tons. England and France are so short that they cannot provide eggs for the wounded American soldiers and sailors in the hospitals. We must produce for home. We, here in the corn belt, have got to do the big job as far as the production of poultry and eggs are concerned.

If we look on the bright side of this backward spring, we find that nature is kind to us. Let us turn these congenial growing conditions to good account in poultry work.

Poultry on the farm pays, and pays well. But, this is not the time to think of profits alone. The farmer who first figures out what crop will pay him the best, overlooks the fundamental principles of patriotism. What if the drafted man should say, "I can't afford to go; it will pay me better to stay at home." This is a time for sacrifice. Produce what the hungry humans of this hungry world need the most.

WOULD EXTEND CLOSED SEASONS ON BIRDS

Department of Agriculture Proposes Slight Changes in Regulations Under Existing Law.

Washington, D. C., June 6.—Slight changes in the regulations under the migratory bird law have been proposed by the United States department of agriculture in accordance with a resolution adopted at a recent meeting in Washington of the migratory bird law advisory board. The proposals have been published and a period of three months is allowed during which the changes may be examined and considered before final adoption. The regulations as finally adopted will become effective on or after September 1, 1918.

Owing to the continued need of protection, it is proposed to extend to September 1, 1920, the closed season which would have expired September 1, 1918, on band-tailed pigeons; little brown, sandhill and whooping cranes; wood duck, swans, curlews, willets and all shorebirds except the black-bellied and golden plovers; Wilson snipe or jacksnipe; woodcock; and the greater and lesser yellowlegs. It is also proposed to continue the closed seasons on rails in California and Vermont and on black-bellied and golden plover in California and Utah until September 1, 1920, and on woodcock in Illinois, Kentucky, and Missouri until October 1, 1920.

A QUESTION
The following lines received from Miss Kathleen Walsh of Escanaba, Mich., seem worthy of publication.

What Did You?
When the war has been won,
When our duty is done,
When our sailors come sailing the foam;
When our men of the air
And the guns over there
All the nation is welcoming home;
They will come to your door,
The young winners of war,
They will look you up, over and thru,
And in word or in thought,
They will ask, like as not:
"Well, we did quite a lot—
What did you?"

When the years have gone by,
And the pages are dry
That the story of struggle record;
With democracy sure,
When we're living secure
In the strength of our soul and our sword—
In that glorious time
To your knee there will climb
Then a boy or a girl, or the two,
And will say, "Some were brave
On the land and the wave,
Some their everything gave—
What did you?"

Or it may be at night
You will sit by the light
Of a fire in a home that is free,
You will sit all alone
Neath a roof of your own
In some year of the future to be,
And a voice down inside
Will say, "Some of them died,
Or they suffered their duty to do,
And the ones who could not
Give their all gave a lot,
Gave their money—say, what,
What did you?"

You are wasting money every week in some trivial way, that if it were put in the bank would soon make a very handsome sum.

WHEN a man makes a will creating a trust, he obviously intends that the trust will be carried out in strict accordance with his expressed desire.

WHEN a man dies he leaves no one but his trustee whose duty it is to see that his wishes are carried out whether the beneficiaries like it or not.

WHEN an individual is made trustee he is subjected to arguments and importunities to modify the expressed will of the creator of the trust, to benefit in some way some one or more of the beneficiaries. The importunities are difficult for the individual trustee to resist, particularly if he is connected with the family.

WHEN a man creates a trust which he wishes carried out according to his plans, he will be best served by a corporate trustee. It dares not do otherwise, lest other men creating trusts refuse to trust even a corporate trustee.

WITH THE COLORS

At Camp Merritt.
The letter printed below was written by Glenn Walker, now at Camp Merritt, New Jersey, to Henry Bersig of this city. Mr. Walker has been in training at Camp Jackson, S. C., for the past several months and was recently transferred to the eastern camp.

Camp Merritt, N. J.,
Mr. Henry Bersig,
Jacksonville, Ill.
Dear Friend:-

Today is Decoration Day, but not to some of us in the camps. It is rather cool here at light. First of all I want to make a brief outline of how we came to be here. Have been with the U. S. army almost five months and like it fine. All of us should. Was first at Jefferson Barracks, of course you know where that is. Was there two weeks, with snow six inches deep. We left there the first of February for Camp Jackson, S. C. There we were assigned to an all together company, the only organization of the kind in our country. Have 1,500 men in all, called the first corps artillery park. There we received all of our personal drilling. We are a well trained company considering the length of time. We left Camp Jackson the first of the week in May for here where we are for the present. This is no training camp. We came up here on three train rains.

We do not want to stay here but want to get into the real service, and will be in a very short time. But the worst of it, 65 of us were quarantined or the measles. While we were quarantined the regiment went broad, but will join them later. This camp is a beautiful spot, just 20 miles from New York. We have been thru several states but none to compare with old Illinois, especially the old Strawn farm, where I spent several years. They don't know how to farm in the south.

We came thru Washington, D. C., and Philadelphia, Pa. The latter is a rich state and has numerous manufacturing plants. We are fully equipped for overseas service and we are all anxious to get there. The U. S. does not stand back on equipment and eats. I told one of the cooks in a joking way that I hadn't had anything to eat for a week and he said "You look it." When at Jefferson Barracks I weighed 161 lbs. and now weigh 137 lbs., so you know we are not starved.

Too much cannot be said of the American Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., or K. C. halls. Too much cannot be given to these organizations. Don't stand back on giving. I don't see how the U. S. can afford any more men when they are now in training gets ever more. We will get him and eat him alive, hide and kill. Heard a woman speak at the last night. She said her husband was made to hold money, money was made for the Jews, but who in the hell made the Kaiser. That is what I want to know. We are going to eat Christmas dinner in Berlin, so wait and see. Oh, yes, our main leader is going to make us a speech tomorrow and that great man is Woodrow Wilson. Well I must come to a close for it is almost time for tea. Appreciating what you have done for me in the past, I am,

Yours,

Marshall Glenn Walker,
First Corps, Artillery Park Det.,
Camp Merritt, New Jersey.

P. S. I think this will do to put in the paper. Put it in and send me a copy.

From a Texas Camp.
Relatives here have received the following letter from Herbert O. Wolcott, now in training at Laredo, Texas. Young Wolcott was one of the Morgan county men who left May 23 for Jefferson Barracks and who were subsequently transferred to the southern point. His letter follows:

Ft. McIntosh,
June 2, 1918.

Dear Folks:

I am well and hope you are the same. Well we are sure having some warm weather here. I hope it is not as hot up there as it is here. It is 110 degrees here and nothing but sand and gravel to walk around in. I would (if I know how to act) if I was on Illinois black dirt, still I am getting frightened to tell I don't notice it so much. Well we took a drill around over the town yesterday morning, the houses here are not so up to date as those up there. The people are about two thirds Mexicans here. They are like the negroes in Kentucky, they walk pretty straight. A good many of the Mexicans have business places of their own. There are some wealthy Mexicans here and they seem to be very nice and polite people, but the others look sneaking and really are.

I want you folks to write. I have not had a letter yet from anybody and it is Sunday haven't had time, I guess. Well I never told you how we eat. We have what they call a mess kit, a couple of pie pans with a handle and also have a cup and every man has his outfit and is supposed to use his only. We line up in what they call single file, that is, they line up one behind the other and march thru the kitchen and we get what we want to eat and all we want if we go back to the kitchen a dozen times its all right. We had orders to eat all we wanted and believe me, I sometimes eat a lot. We have ham, steak, eggs, gravy, pork, potatoes, tomatoes, apples, oranges, prunes, pudding, and we have corn flakes and grape nuts for breakfast desserts. There is no reason for a fellow starving here. I like my superior officers fine and like all the drilling and athletic stunts they pull off, but I don't like the town, and you wouldn't either.

Tell everybody I said hello and that I like it fine.

Our Lieutenant gave us a great blow off yesterday, he said we were the biggest, most intelligent and brightest bunch of men he had ever seen since he had been Lieutenant. You know that made us rear up and think we were all of it. I am in the third squad of my company and am first man in it.

Private Leo Sulter,
40th Aero Construction Squadron.

P. S. Was glad to hear that you and father had a pleasant time at the K. of P. service flag dedication. They had surely a lot of bunch of fellows. You had better not try to send anything over outside of letters and news for they are not by New York. I am still receiving the Journals and am sure glad to receive them.

ASK POSTPONEMENT OF RATE INCREASE
WASHINGTON, June 6.—Postponement of the new freight and passenger rates, or modification to remove injustices and discriminations which threaten many shippers and industries with "commercial cannibalism" was urged upon Director-General McAdoo today by a delegation of the National Association of Railway and Utilities Commissioners. Mr. McAdoo was asked either to make state commissions his agents in bringing about necessary readjustments in rates or to require railroads to submit to the authority exercised by state commissions before government operations started in matters of rate and police regulations.

MILLION AND HALF RIFLES PRODUCED
WASHINGTON, June 6.—More than a million and a half rifles have been produced from the United States army since this country entered the war, says an announcement tonight by the war department. Of this number 1,140,595 are modified Enfields, 176,796 Springfield models of 1903 and 251,270 Russian rifles.

"Besides the rifles made since war was declared," said the announcement there are 600,000 Springfield, model of 1903 in use. Only about one half the soldiers in an army carry rifles. On this basis the ordnance department has enough rifles, Springfield and modified Enfields, for an army of about 2,000,000 men allowing wastage for one year."

ABR RAID ON PARIS
Paris, June 7.—German airplanes raided the Paris district last night thru a heavy defensive barrage. Some houses were dropped. One person is reported dead and several wounded. Material damage was done. The "air raid" was sounded at 12:20 a. m. Friday.

RUSSIAN FLEET TO GERMANY
Paris, June 6.—M. Tchitcherine, Russian Bolshevik foreign minister has sent a wireless despatch to Ambassador Joffe, in Holland, according to a message received by the Havas agency, announcing that the Bolshevik government is ready to surrender the Russian Black Sea fleet to Germany on condition it be restored to Russia after peace has been declared and Germans refrain from using the vessels.

Conditions also stipulate that German invasion of Russia shall end.

TANKER ARRIVES IN PORT
Philadelphia, June 6.—With the Stars and Stripes waving from her stern, the American Tanker Herbert L. Pratt, damaged by a mine off the Delaware Capes last Monday, arrived at her dock here today and at once began unloading her cargo of oil. The only outward evidences of her experience were patches of fresh black paint on her bow and furniture and other fittings scattered about the deck. Shipping men regard quick raising of the tanker's bow as a fine piece of wrecking work. A diver examined her a few hours after she sank, the bow rose and 8,000 to 10,000 barrels of oil and water were pumped out of damaged sections.

MUST FEED ALLIES OR LOSE.
Chicago, June 6.—The United States must feed the allies or lose the war, Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Leland Stanford, Jr., University today told a meeting of Illinois food administrators. Revolutions are made in "bread lines" he said. The reason Russia dropped out of the war was because of hunger. We must be willing to go on and fight this war even if Paris and London are lost.

"If we can keep fighting until November we can win the war, but if we dilly dally along we will lose it. We should have 5,000,000 men in the field by next spring."

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, June 6. Headquarters at Kelly Field here received a message from Austin tonight stating that Major Thorne E. Duell, recently assigned to command Tulaferro Field at Fort Worth had fallen in his airplane near there. Whether he was injured is not stated. Presumably Major Duell was flying from Kelly Field to his new command.

Falling to obtain any further report on the accident an aeroplane was despatched from Kelly Field to Austin this evening to investigate. Major Duell's companion was Sergeant Montee.

for prices and terms which cover those risks. On the other hand when the risk has been liquidated by proper allowance the contract has proved profitable the government should take back in taxes all profits above a reasonable reward.

"Of course, no one objects to reasonable profits; on the contrary, every one should want, and I am sure does want, business and enterprise to be rewarded with reasonable, or even liberal profits. Prosperity should be preserved and can be preserved, I believe on the basis of reasonable profits."

BOARD PREPARING LIST FOR JUNE CALL

STRENUOUS WORK IN ARRANGING ALL DETAILS FOR FOUR HUNDRED.

All Men in Class One Will be Included—Quick Action to be Taken on All Pending Cases—Physical Examinations Set for Next Monday

As indicated in the notice yesterday, members of the Morgan county local board could not be reached by the public yesterday at 2 o'clock. This executive session was necessary because of the great mass of work confronting the board in connection with the department's most recent order for 400 men to be made ready for shipment by June 24. The situation is that the board must now include in this next quota all of the men in class 1-A, including married men without children. They must also take practically all of those listed at 1-1, a classification of a temporary kind instituted by the board where names were enrolled of men who could not properly be included in other classifications. The men in class 1-1 in fact have all along been accounted as men with cases pending. Recently Registered Men Cannot Go

The board received inquiries from a number of the young men who were registered Tuesday asking if it would not be possible to include them in the contingent of June 24. This cannot be done, according to instructions from the adjutant general. These young men cannot now enlist, they cannot be sent with the troops June 24. They are now registered in the regular way, their questionnaires must be filled out, physical examinations passed and the proper time for appeal allowed and the cases acted upon in accordance with the serial numbers, just as has been done with the other men subject to the selective draft act.

In the afternoon hours there were many callers at the exemption board office and it is likely that there will be many other visitors today and during succeeding days. The announcement that all men placed in the temporary deferred classifications on account of agricultural claims must now be sent, will possibly suggest consultation with board members. It can be stated in this connection that these conferences and requests will be unavailing now. The board had used its best efforts to keep men on the farms and has all along kept in mind the necessity of food production. Now it is a condition and not a theory which faces the board and the order from the provost marshal general must be strictly and promptly obeyed.

A Clean Sweep
To furnish the 400 men means practically the taking of 100 per cent of the classifications mentioned above. In the list below the names are given from which the 400 men will be chosen. The names include all those in class 1-A, married men without children who have been classified at 1-1, and men in class 1-1 whose cases have not up to this time been permanently acted upon. In this list there are about 80 men and only a few of them have been examined. Men who have not been examined will receive cards today summoning them to appear at the court house Monday for physical examination.

MEN TO BE EXAMINED MONDAY.

Only a few of the men named in this list have been examined. All of the others have been called for physical examination Monday at the court house. These men are all in class one, which means that their permanent classification had not been determined upon.
